

Spock and Kirk save the world

One day Spock and Kirk were on the enterprise and they heard an explosion from another planet.

Oh no thought Spock that better not be earth! I don't think it is said Kirk but we better go check it out.

So they approached the planet and they said “we have to be careful because we don’t know what is going to happen.”

Then the pair decided they needed to visit the planet. “Beam me down Kirk” said Spock.

So Spock got in the transporter and went to the new planet.

Then Spock and Kirk went to the transporter room.

Then in the control room all of the sudden there was a loud beeping.

There was a transmission coming through.

It was Quark from the future...

Kirk and Spock you are only ones who can save the universe.

All of the planets needed to be protected from the evil force.

So Spock and Kirk started to put forcefields around each of the planets.

Then they headed to planet.

When they arrived at the new planet they noticed something was different.

There were so many lights on this new planet... They hadn't seen that before.

Then Spock and Kirk began exploring the planet.

There are two moons in the sky how strange said Kirk.

Yeah that's very different than back home said Spock.

Let's go explore said Kirk.

Then Spock and Kirk decided to go to their living room at home.

Then they decided to watch tv.

Then Spock and Kirk got into bed and went to sleep.
